Consent Matters: Boundaries, Respect, and Positive Intervention

A fully interactive, evidence-based online course which helps students understand sexual consent and promote positive change in their community.

www.epigeum.com
Deliver current, inclusive, and scalable training to students institution-wide

Developed with an expert panel of advisors, authors, and student and staff reviewers, the latest edition of the award-winning Consent Matters course provides current, interactive, evidence-based, accessible and inclusive training on sexual consent, communication, relationships, and bystander intervention:

- Deliver up-to-date training institution-wide, drawing on the latest developments in culture, law, and global research-based best practices
- Engage students with a wide range of interactive, multimedia activities, which encourage the development of good communication, clear boundaries and mutual respect in relationships
- Ensure an inclusive approach with realistic scenarios and peer perspectives that represent the experiences of diverse student communities
- Benefit from a fully flexible online resource that enables efficient and cost-effective scaling up of training, and can be integrated into a blended learning approach to complement face-to-face workshops

Course structure:
- Module 1: Thinking about consent
- Module 2: Communication skills and relationships
- Module 3: Looking out for others

New features:
- Refreshed with an updated user interface, design, and new imagery
- A new ‘hide content’ option for potentially triggering course material
- More student audio testimonials and voiceovers for some activities
- Additional content created to reflect better the vibrant world of student life, including more racial diversity, diversity in relationship styles, and content for students who are not having sex
- Additional content created to reflect the legal changes around the understanding of consent
- The support services have been updated with a comprehensive review of existing third-party links and new additional resources

Multimedia activities – including vox pops, animations, and polls – incorporate peer perspectives as part of a ‘social norms’ approach

Mobile-optimized to be accessible anytime, anywhere

New ‘Glossary’ pods support students with English as a second language

A range of new content specifically looks at navigating consent with the complexities of online interactions in the digital age, with new information on social media, image-based abuse and video subscription services
Meet our Author Team

Lead Advisor and Author

Dr. Alan Berkowitz

An award-winning independent consultant and expert with over twenty-five years of experience, Dr. Berkowitz specialises in culture change, gender issues, ending men’s violence, and fostering social justice.

Authors

Dr. Kelly Prince

As the Serious Incident Officer at Keele University, Kelly's role includes investigations, policy development, staff training, and student campaigns in the area of sexual violence. Kelly has worked with, and studied, aspects of gendered violence for 20 years.

Get in touch with our Academic Partnerships team to find out more about Consent Matters and how our Support and Wellbeing programmes can work together to meet your institution’s needs.

Find out more: www.epigeum.com/courses/support-wellbeing/consent-matters-second-edition/

Request more information or a free trial: epigeum@sagepub.com

Follow us: @Epigeum

Follow us: Epigeum